The laborers have the most enormous power in their hands, and, if they once became thoroughly conscious of it and used it, nothing would withstand them; they would only have to stop labor, regard the product of labor as theirs, and enjoy it. This is the sense of the labor disturbances which show themselves here and there.

The State rests on the — slavery of labor. If labor becomes free, the State is lost.

I love men too - not merely individuals, but every one. But I love them with the consciousness of egoism; I love them because love makes me happy, I love because loving is natural to me, because it pleases me. I know no "commandment of love." I have a fellow-feeling with every feeling being, and their torment torments, their refreshment refreshes me too; I can kill them, not torture them.

The rich are cruel, but the poor are wrong when they complain about this cruelty: the poor create the wealth of the rich

"From my earliest years,
I wanted to figure out what life was about. I wanted to find out why I was here so that my actions and my desires
would have some meaning.
I don't understand why everyone isn't mainly and
centrally a philosopher,
because if you aren't trying to figure that out for yourself,
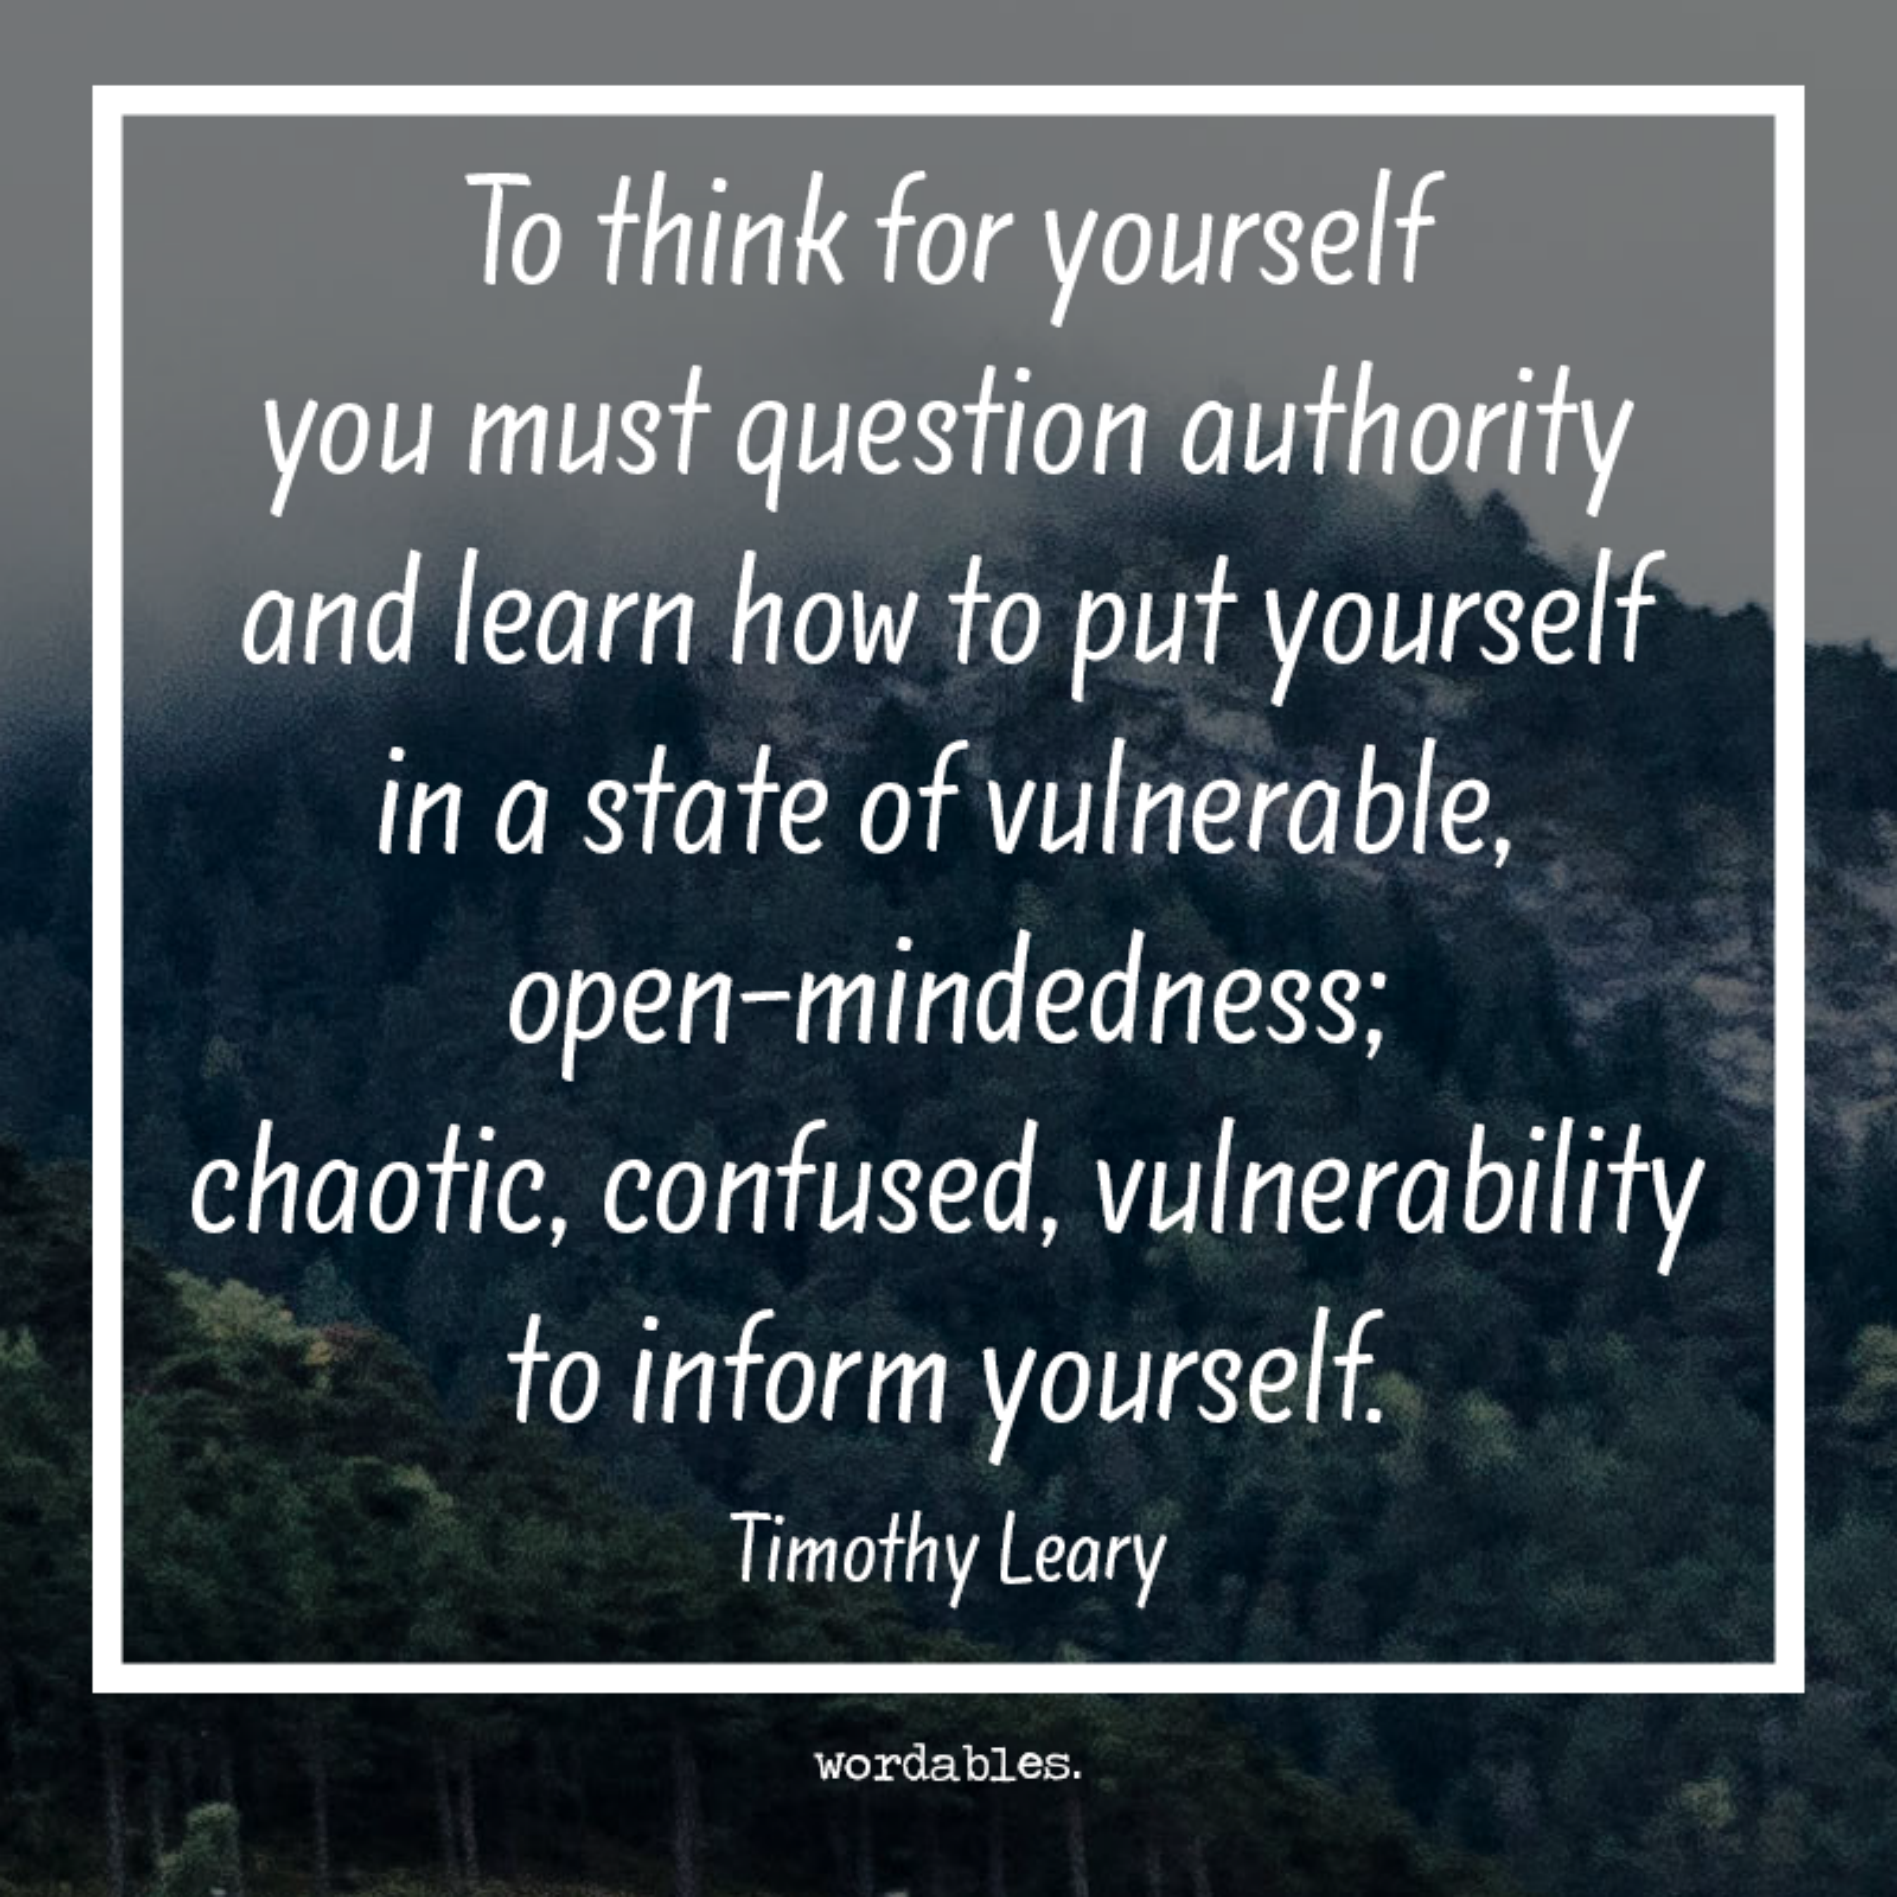
you're borrowing, or begging,
or passively taking on
someone else's philosophy,
and this may lead to situations
that are unsatisfactory."
- Timothy Leary



To think for yourself
you must question authority
and learn how to put yourself
in a state of vulnerable,
open-mindedness;
chaotic, confused, vulnerability
to inform yourself.

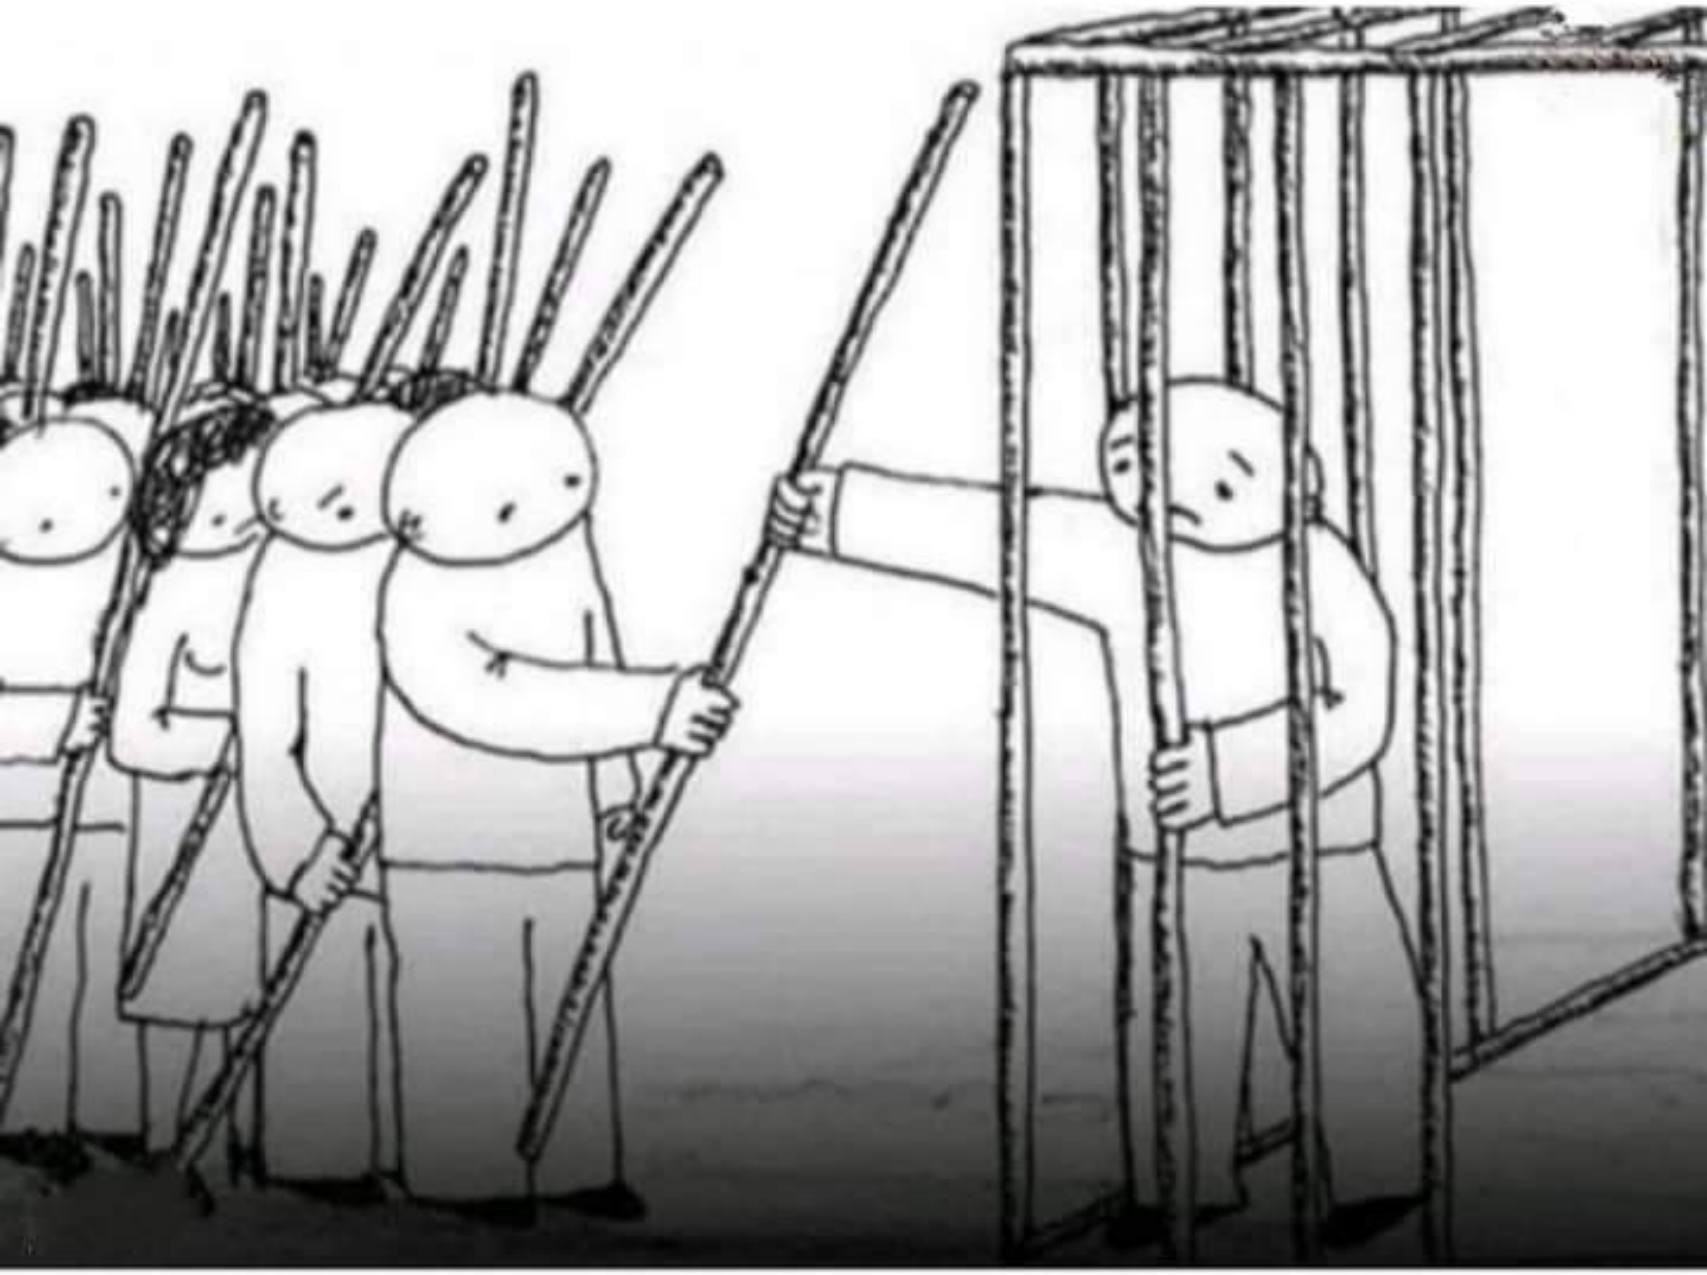
We're living in a fake environment with fake food, fake news and fake people and it's slowly poisoning our souls.

Don't build a Prison for yourself with the opinion of others towards your life 💯



Always listen to yourself 👌

Throughout human history, as our species has faced the frightening, terrorizing fact that we do not know who we are, or where we are going in this ocean of chaos, it has been the authorities, the political, the religious, the educational authorities who attempted to comfort us by giving us order, rules, regulations, informing, forming in our minds their view of reality. To think for yourself you must question authority and learn how to put yourself in a state of vulnerable, open-mindedness; chaotic, confused, vulnerability to inform yourself.

“Millions of people never analyze themselves.

Mentally they are mechanical products of the factory of their environment, preoccupied with breakfast, lunch, and dinner, working and sleeping, and going here and there to be entertained. They don’t know what or why they are seeking, nor why they never realize complete happiness and lasting satisfaction.
By evading self-analysis, people go on being robots, conditioned by their environment.
True self-analysis is the greatest art of progress.”
